

RECIPROCITY WITH CANADA IS NEAR.

As the Journal Told, Sir Wilfred Laurier Is Here to Secure It.

NO TIME WILL BE LOST.

Consultations to Be Held While the Canadian Officials Are Still in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 12.—In confirmation of the Journal's exclusive report that the mission of Sir Wilfred Laurier, the Canadian Premier, to the United States was to ask for liberal reciprocity by which the Canadian products may come more freely into the United States, definite arrangements were made at the State Department to-day for taking up the subject of reciprocity. Meetings have been arranged for John W. Kason, who has been designated by the State Department to prepare reciprocity treaties with the various foreign governments, and Sir Wilfred Laurier and Sir Louis Davies, Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

It is further contemplated that after this question has been disposed of, the questions of border immigration, North Atlantic fisheries and like matters shall be considered in their order. It is not the intention of the State Department and the visiting statesmen to conclude a treaty before the return of the latter to Canada, but the present conference is to reach a common understanding and at a later date agree on details and draft the instrument.

The meetings will be held during the present visit of the Canadian officials, but no exact time for them has yet been fixed, as it will depend somewhat on the time which can be spared from the Behring Sea sessions.

It is pointed out that much misapprehension exists as to the preferences which the Canadian tariff law gives to Great Britain. The law makes no mention of Great Britain. It has two schedules, maximum and minimum. At present Great Britain enjoys the minimum rates, but the same are open to all other countries, the United States included, and there is nothing in the law which contemplates giving Great Britain the exclusive benefits of these lower rates.

It is understood to be the view of the Canadian officials that the markets of the United States and Canada are so closely connected geographically that it is essential that the countries look to each other, rather than to markets thousands of miles distant and difficult of access. This, it is said, implies no undue benefits or discriminations toward the United States or Great Britain, but a recognition of business conditions.

SPANIARDS TOO SLEEK.

While De Lome's Agents Were Waiting for More Evidence, the Silver Heels Made Good Her Escape.

Washington, Nov. 12.—United States Marshal McCarty, of the New York District, and his chief deputy, John Kennedy, were here today, explaining why they did not catch the Silver Heels. It appears that the Spanish Minister has entered complaint that unnecessary time was consumed by the United States marshal in preparing to pursue and capture the Silver Heels. Therefore, Attorney-General McKenna, a few days ago, ordered Marshal McCarty to report to him at Washington, prepared to explain the matter.

The marshal to-day submitted a report in writing. He avers that from the moment he received information from the Pinkerton detectives that the Silver Heels had been captured by De Lome, he exerted his best efforts to capture the Silver Heels. At one time he could have taken the vessel with ease, but the Spanish agents suggested delay in order that the Pinkertons might be captured with sufficient evidence to preclude the possibility of acquittal. While the detectives and the Government officials waited for orders from the Spanish officials the Silver Heels made good her escape. Now De Lome is endeavoring to saddle the entire responsibility on Marshal McCarty.

Sunday Journal "Wants" to-morrow will be consulted by everybody who has a want to fill. Don't let this caution go unheeded.

Suit Against G. B. McLellan.

NAT C. GOODWIN was a witness yesterday in supplementary proceedings brought by the Gillis Printing Company against George B. McLellan, to collect a judgment for $2,000. The comedian testified that he went to Australia under Mr. McLellan's management, under a contract by which he was to receive 20 per cent of the gross receipts, and that Mr. McLellan still owes him $2,000. Mr. Goodwin further testified that he knew Mr. McLellan had married Pauline Hall.

Joseph V. Jordan, treasurer of the Elberon Hotel and Cottage Company, and manager of the Hotel St. Mark, testified that he was induced by Mr. McLellan to become vice-president of the George W. Lederer Company. Mr. Jordan said:

"He informed me that there was a fortune in the Casino. He took me to George W. Lederer's house, where

KELLEY CAN LIVE UNTIL HIS BOND WITH THE DEVIL IS CANCELLED.

THE DEVIL AS HE HAS APPEARED TO MURDERER JOSEPH F. KELLEY.

Sentenced to Thirty Years' Imprisonment for Killing Aged Cashier Stickney—Prisoner Says His Visitor from Hades Looks Like an Ordinary Man, but His Hair Is Striped and His Eyes Are Like Diamonds.

Dover, N. H., Nov. 12.—Joseph F. Kelley is not to be hanged after all. He was willing to be hanged provided the date was set after January 16, 1899, the day when, he claims, his contract with the devil is to expire. Instead, he is to spend the next thirty years of his life in prison.

Chief Justice Mason, of the Supreme Court, this morning pronounced him guilty of murder in the second degree for the killing of Joseph A. Stickney, the aged cashier of the Great Falls Bank, of Somersworth.

According to Kelley, the devil came to him when he was about eleven years of age and announced that, as he knew Kelley in irregular form, and the colors are black and white. These stripes run all over his head.

Has Eyes Like Diamonds.

"His face is smooth and like that of any man, the principal feature of difference being his eyes, which are like two drops of water set in a piece of ebony. They glisten and sparkle like diamonds, but yet they are not cut like these precious stones. They are heavy and smooth, but of a deep, deep, deep blue, and whenever they are turned toward me I have been unable to keep from falling into his power."

"The devil's clothing is similar to that of ordinary mortals, except his shirt, which has a wide, flaring collar, open at the neck. The devil's hands are long, and the fingers are sharp, but not to an excess that could be called a deformity. Rather, they are extremely slender and very tapering. His feet are large and prominent, and very wide. In his whole appearance there is something about him that is not that of an ordinary person, but his shirt collar would be noticed and his peculiar hair, if seen, would mark him as a visitor from Hades. He is dressed in the best of style, and except for the shirt collar has much the appearance of a dandy. He is not dressed in red and green, and doesn't have a tail."

The Crowd in the Courtroom.

A driving snow storm prevailed this morning, but the Stratford County Court House was filled with people when Sheriff Hayes rapped for order. The crowd seemed to be looking for another sensation of some sort. The presentation of expert testimony by the State as to the mental condition of the defendant was promptly resumed. Dr. George T. Kelly, of Boston, an expert on mental diseases, said that he could say Kelley had only a limited responsibility for his acts, on account of the injury he sustained to his head when he was a boy, which prevented his brain from developing. He thought Kelley acted upon an impulse which he has no mental power to control. He does not think Kelley is feigning now, and expressed the belief that the prisoner's present condition existed in April last when he murdered Cashier Stickney.

He Made Kelley Laugh.

Dr. Walter Channing, of Brookline, Mass., stated that as the result of the boyhood accident Kelley was always of boyish appearance, although a very good observer. Kelley laughed heartily at Dr. Channing's reference to the fact that the prisoner was boyish in his ways.

Kelley Mentally Responsible.

Dr. Thomas J. Ward, M. J. Sullivan, John R. Ham, Moses C. Lathrop, and Levi G. Hill, all of Dover, agreed that in their opinion Kelley was mentally irresponsible and was of unusual mind when the murder was committed last April. This concluded the evidence, and the jury retired to a room on the second floor of the court house to make a verdict.

Solicitor Nason then moved that sentence be pronounced, and Clerk Durgh read the order of the Court while imposed a term of thirty years at hard labor in the State prison and the payment of the costs of the prosecution.

Kelley listened to the words of Clerk Durgh with apparent indifference and sat down. He will go to Concord to-morrow morning in custody of Sheriff Hayes. Before he left the court room Kelley told County Solicitor Nason that he would as soon hang as to serve a sentence of thirty years in prison. He shook hands cheerfully with his counsel and friends before starting for the jail.

CUBAN LEADERS

Only Sick and Faint-Hearted Insurgents Will Accept Amnesty.

VENGEANCE AND LIBERTY.

Spain's Dominance Can Only Come After the True Patriots Have Been Exterminated.

By George Clarke Musgrave.

(Copyright, 1897, by W. R. Hearst.)

Havana, Nov. 11, via Tampa, Fla., Nov. 12.—The significant attitude taken by the New York Cubans and the hearty response made by all classes to the Junta's manifesto have greatly cheered the insurgents in the field. They had not unnaturally feared that many whose business interests were suffering through the war would use their influence in America to force the acceptance of the Spanish concessions. They are completely reassured, however, by the emphatic support tendered by prominent Cubans who have hitherto refrained from personal interest in taking an active part in the rebellion. It must not be overlooked, however, that Spain's conciliatory policy will greatly lessen foreign sympathy, and the amnesty offered to rebels in arms will cause the surrender of many Cuban soldiers—true patriots at heart—the spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak. It is useless to sustain the frightful hardships of the field in preference to safe, if ignominious, surrender. Spain is counting much on this. Recent conversations I have had with Spanish officers at the palace show that the amnesty is looked on as Spain's trump card. "Spain's magnanimity will heap coals of fire on her enemies," said a staff officer yesterday, but Spain must not be misled.

Many Will Stand Fast.

Presented there are already, and many more will give themselves up in the near future, but Spain has to deal directly with men who are her implacable enemies, who have sworn to avenge the murders of their children and wives, and others who have lost their all. When the blood of these patriots has dried, the hands of the cruel and absolutely exterminated, then, and not till then, can Spanish dominance be talked of. There are old leaders, also, who have been bitterly decimated by Spanish promises in previous wars, and they have an immense influence over their followers. Thus the influence of a few faint-hearted or sick and wounded men from the ranks of the patriots must not be looked on as a significant disintegration of the Cuban army.

The insurgent leaders will be relieved of much impediment, and thus will not be altogether the losers. The insurgents on Monday again made a demonstration in Havana, a suburb of Havana. They drove off the guards from La Toledo plantation and set fire to the cane fields, which burned fiercely for many hours. The owner of Toledo is charged with having assisted in the betrayal of Maceo. There was a panic among residents, but the Cubans did not molest the suburb itself, and the inhabitants were soon reassured by the remembrance of Colonel Liden and the treatment accorded them when Acosta and Hernandez held the place for several hours last June.

News for Clankmakers.

The clankmakers are greatly rejoicing, as General Blanco has rescinded Weyler's order prohibiting their employing readers which they would not have done. The Butcher discovered a man translating about an American newspaper. Much incensed, he stopped the practice by law. Now the readers are all at the desks again. The chief, Barrera, resigned and hurried to his home. He was a demagogue, a numbered, and that he might have to answer for his crimes. Now Pringle and Perez and the other supporters of the cause are absolutely exterminated, then, and not till then, can Spanish dominance be talked of. There are old leaders, also, who have been bitterly decimated by Spanish promises in previous wars, and they have an immense influence over their followers. Thus the influence of a few faint-hearted or sick and wounded men from the ranks of the patriots must not be looked on as a significant disintegration of the Cuban army.

A recent action of Prins, who has carried out many of the murders, has just come to light. Before Weyler's order was issued, he was most anxious to obtain a confession from a young man of a well known Cuban family, who was suspected of being engaged in a political intrigue. He was arrested and held a short time. Then Prins, with many professions of friendship, took him from his cell and invited him home to supper. The Cuban suspected that the food was poisoned, but he ate it bravely, and after being regaled with excellent wine he was shown over the house.

Death or a Confession.

In a small disused room he was suddenly seized, bound and placed against the wall, while his host's brother held a pistol at his head and gave him five minutes in which to confess or be shot. Thus was he hurried to martyrdom. His mother and sisters, and his only crime was political sympathy. He steadfastly refused to confess anything. As Prins's assistant urged that the man must have seen the prisoner arrive in a coach and would make a scandal, he was escorted to jail again, with many threats. He is now at the military prison. Cubans have been fogged, tortured and shot for less countenance.

The Reina battalion overtook a party of insurgents Wednesday at Colorado, near here, and after a running fight through the plantations the Cubans were forced to retire. Several were killed and wounded on both sides.

CRY OF POLITICAL PULL AT BELLEVUE.

Medical Board Says It Was Robbed of an Appointment.

COMMISSIONERS MADE IT.

Selected, Dr. Nammack When Dr. Herter Had Been Nominated.

There is a clash between the Board of Medical Directors of the Fourth Division of Bellevue Hospital and the Commissioners of Charity, which, if it continues, may result in the obliteration of the Board, or a substitute. The Commissioners are in full command, and members of the Board are subject to dismissal at their will.

The appointment last month by the Commissioners of Dr. Charles E. Nammack, of No. 42 East Twenty-ninth street, as visiting physician of the Fourth Division, despite the Board, has caused the warfare. The Board wanted Dr. C. A. Herter, of No. 819 Madison avenue. The Board has always been in the habit of nominating physicians for these places, and when Dr. Charles A. Dana resigned a short time ago it placed the name of Dr. Herter before the Commissioners. The Commissioners would have Nammack or no one, and, of course, got him.

There was a wall in the Board. Herter's name had been on the "next" list for three years, whereas that of Nammack had never appeared there. "Political influence" was the cry sent up. Board members declared their medical experience and judgment had been tried at naught, although they did not dare to reject at all upon the capability of Nammack. At a special meeting they drafted a letter explaining the alleged injustice. This was addressed to the Medical News, and will appear in the issue of that paper to-day.

The charge of political influence is warlike, denied by the Commissioners, and the intimation is set forth that the Board of Medical Directors does not maintain a diplomatic silence there is appreciable danger of its being wiped out. Dr. Nammack, in explaining his position, Dr. Nammack said:

The Commissioners grew tired of waiting to see a simple act of justice done, and

MEN CURED FREE.

The Private Formula of a Noted Physician Made Public.

WEAKENED MANKIND MAY NOW GRASP A WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY.

A resident of Kalamazoo, Mich., desires to send free to mankind a prescription which will cure them of any form of nervous debility; relieves them of all the doubt and uncertainty which such men are peculiarly liable to and restores the organs to natural size and vigor. As it costs nothing to try the experiment it would seem that any man suffering from any form of nervous debility ought to be deeply indebted to a remedy which will restore them to health, strength and vigor, without which they continue to live a existence of untold misery. As the remedy in question was the result of many years' research as to what combination would be most effective in restoring the strength they need, it would seem that all men ought to write for such a remedy at once. A request stating you are not willing out of courtesy, but wish to give the remedy a trial, to Mr. H. C. Olds, box 1,107, Kalamazoo, Mich., will be answered promptly and without charge. Write to-day.

took away from the Fourth Division the power to make the nominations. Hereafter any reputable member of the medical profession may apply for a vacant place in that one quarter of the hospital services which is not already assigned to the three undergraduate medical schools, with the certainty of neither nepotism, lack of social connections, abuse of financial strength, nor lack of college affiliations can prevent him getting it.

Dr. Nammack was an assistant visiting physician in the Fourth Division previous to his present appointment. There is no salary attached to his new place, but it is valued for the vast amount of experience it affords.
